

GRACE

With the support of her family, Grace learns that she can be anything she wants to be, and the results are truly amazing!

Author: Mary Hoffman

Illustrator: Caroline Binch

32 Pages

Themes: Self-Esteem

Family Support

Development Imagination/Creativity

Encouragement from family can help children overcome obstacles of all kind, whether it comes from piers or from within. To help develop creativity or imagination, take the time to put together some tools for your children to use.

- ◆ put together a box of things that your child can use to dress up or pretend with...old curtains, adult shoes and jewelry, hats, an old phone.
- ◆ read a book together and take turns acting out the parts together (your child can see that you have an imagination, too)

Always remember that you're laughing together with each_other not at each other.

To help develop creativity or imagination, take the time to put together some tools for your children to use.

- ◆ put together a box of things that your child can use to dress up or pretend with...old curtains, adult shoes and jewelry, hats, an old phone.
- ◆ read a book together and take turns acting out the parts together (your child can see that you have an imagination, too)

Always remember that you're laughing together with each_other not at each other.