

Make a Match With Mastiaca

That's me. Mastiaca is the Dakota word for rabbit. I hope you had an awesome time and learned interesting facts about Crazy Horse and Native Americans. I thought the memorial was "lelo-washte," which means "cool" in Lakota. I also know "tatanka" which is Dakota for buffalo. Native Americans of this region have 3 distinct dialects, which are Lakota, Nakota, and Dakota. Do you know any Native American words? Try the activity below and have a great vacation in the Black Hills! You can go online at www.pbskidsgo.org to learn more about my adventures in South Dakota.

Directions:

Below you will find a list of common words. Draw a line between the English and Dakota versions of the same word. I will help you with the first word.

Pencil / pen	Wota wo
Cow	Timahed hiyu wo
Eat	Wicazo
Come in	Hitunkana
Mouse	Pte

Are you hungry?	Hiyanka
Brush your teeth	Hohpe
Wait	Hi hdujaja wo
Yes	Hau
Cough	Wotayahda

Bear	Sunka
Dog	Mato
Mom	Ate
Dad	Iyeciakopte
Car	Ina

Grandma	Omakiya wo
Uncle	Kunsi
Aunt	Unkana
Grandpa	Deks
Help me	Tonwin

You can find the answers and more at www.dakotapathways.com. The words can be found in the glossary section of Episode #9, "The People of the Bison."

Resource: <http://pbskids.org/go/>; <http://www.sdpb.org/>; <http://fmdb.cla.umn.edu/dakota/>

POSTCARDS FROM Buster

national center for outreach community engagement through public television

Brought to you by PBS kids' Postcards from Buster, Crazy Horse Memorial and South Dakota Public Broadcasting.
Funded in part by the National Center for Outreach.