

Tomatisu Teams Up

Tomasu was a famous beaver in Honeywood Forest. Just last month
he had saved a girl named Jennifer from drowning, and had stopped a forest fire from spreading.

Today he was gathering sticks to rebuild his house when he heard a voice. He walked toward the voice.

Come
here
Lilly

It was Jennifer. She was running through a campsite, chasing a butterfly.

Lilly, her dog, recognized Tomasu and ran over to him and licked him.

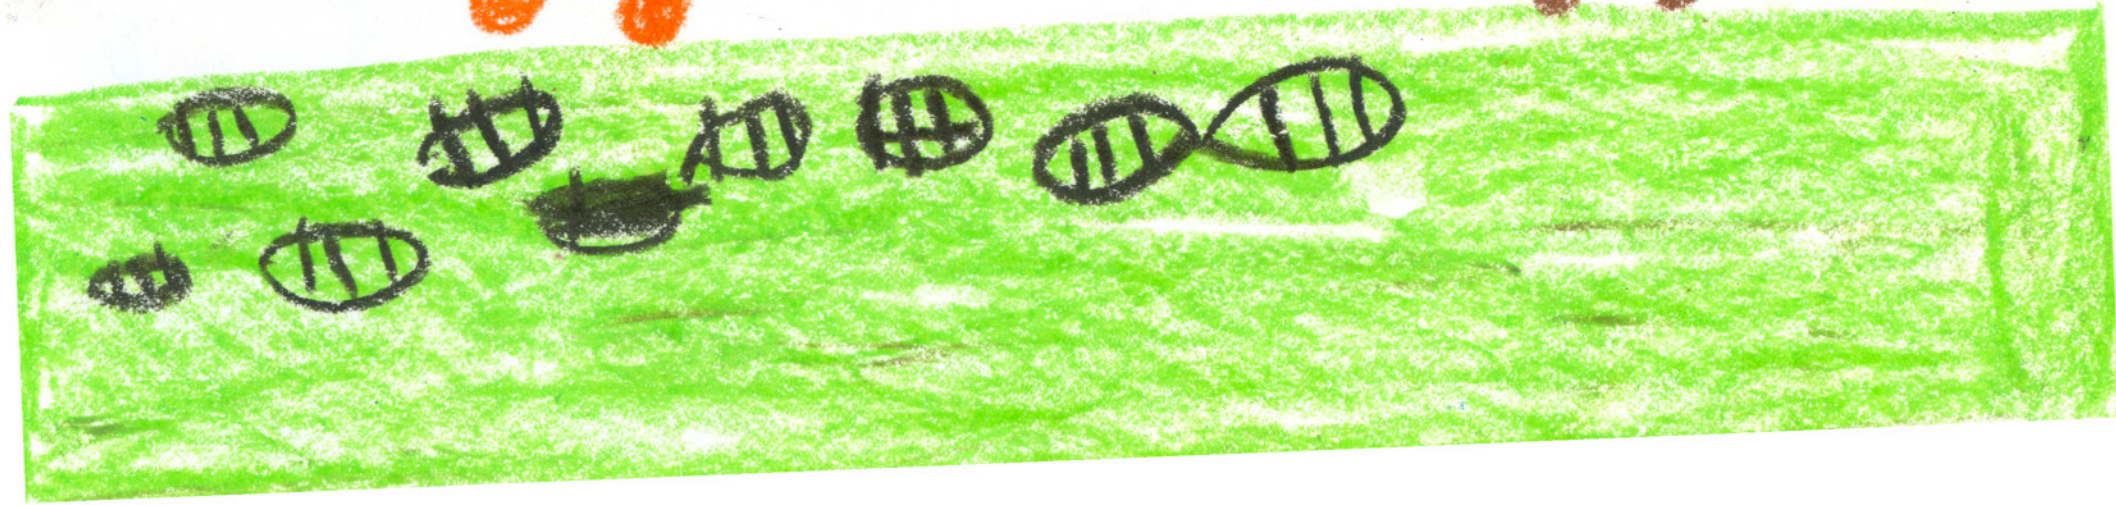

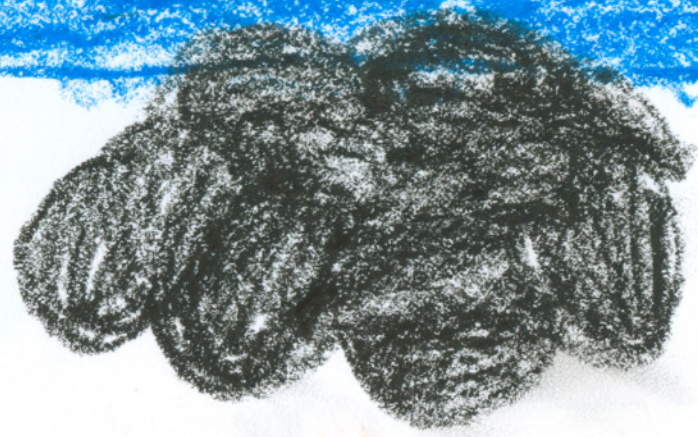

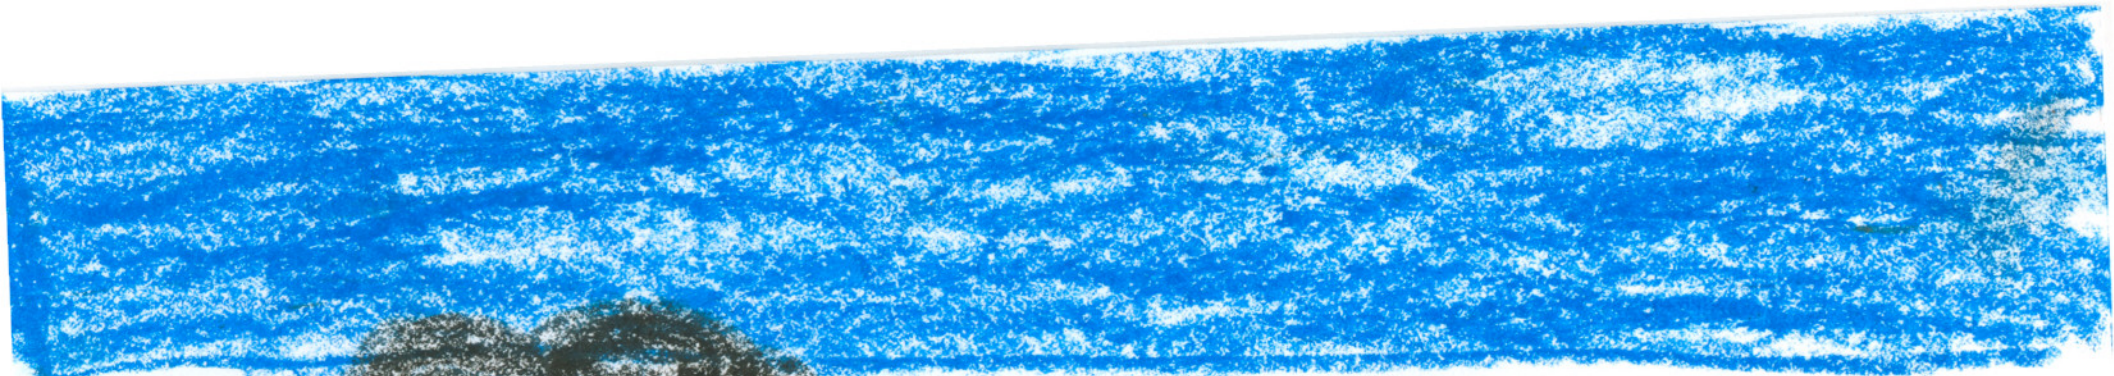

Then Lilly ran back to the campsite, but where was Jennifer? She had chased the butterfly and now

she was lost.

Tomasu and Lilly teamed up together and agreed to help each other find Jennifer. Lilly sniffed her foot prints and Tomasu followed.

Then they heard a cry for help! It was Jennifer! They followed it. Then they found her. She was getting chased by a swarm of bees.

She was stung badly. Tomasa jumped in a close lake and flapped his tail, spraying water on the bees, and Lilly spun her tail around and around,
chasing the bees away.

Lilly licked her stings and Tomasu scooped up mud
and put it on her stings.

Then they helped get Jennifer home and get Some help for her stings.
