

Learn Your Heritage!

Buddy knows that family is one of the most important things we have. Not every family is the same, and that's OK, but did you know that learning about your family can teach you a lot about yourself? You can learn about your family origins, history, traditions -- and traits that you might share with your relatives!